

Salmon Summit

Salmon Summit is the crowning jewel of Benton Conservation District's "Salmon in the Classroom" program. After raising fish at school, each student releases their fish into the Columbia River and enjoys a day of outdoor learning. Thousands of elementary students attend field stations to learn about wise use of water, fish tagging and transport, hydropower generation, agriculture, salmon recovery efforts, local culture and natural resources. Partner organizations include federal, tribal, state, county and municipal agencies, corporate sponsors and non-profit organizations. Volunteers devote hundreds of hours to Salmon Summit. To become a corporate sponsor, serve as a presenter or volunteer, please contact Rachel Little, Benton Conservation District at rachel-little@conserveva.net or (509)832-1329.
